MESSAGE OF HIS HOLINESS POPE FRANCIS FOR WORLD MISSION DAY 2020 [EXTRACT]

In this year marked by the suffering and challenges created by the Covid-19 pandemic, the missionary journey of the whole Church continues in light of the words found in the account of the calling of the prophet Isaiah: "Here am I, send me" (6:8). This is the ever new response to the Lord's question: "Whom shall I send?" (ibid.). This invitation from God's merciful heart challenges both the Church and humanity as a whole in the current world crisis. "Like the disciples in the Gospel we were caught off guard by an unexpected, turbulent storm. We have realized that we are on the same boat, all of us fragile and disoriented, but at the same time important and needed, all of us called to row together, each of us in need of comforting the other. On this boat... are all of us. Just like those disciples, who spoke anxiously with one voice, saying 'We are perishing' (v. 38), so we too have realized that we cannot go on thinking of ourselves, but only together can we do this" (Meditation in Saint Peter's Square, 27 March 2020). We are indeed frightened, disoriented and afraid. Pain and death make us experience our human frailty, but at the same time remind us of our deep desire for life and liberation from evil. In this context, the call to mission, the invitation to step out of ourselves for love of God and neighbour presents itself as an opportunity for sharing, service and intercessory prayer. The mission that God entrusts to each one of us leads us from fear and introspection to a renewed realization that we find ourselves precisely when we give ourselves to others.

Understanding what God is saying to us at this time of pandemic also represents a challenge for the Church's mission. Illness, suffering, fear and isolation challenge us. The poverty of those who die alone, the abandoned, those who have lost their jobs and income, the homeless and those who lack food challenge us. Being forced to observe social distancing and to stay at home invites us to rediscover that we need social relationships as well as our communal relationship with God. The impossibility of gathering as a Church to celebrate the Eucharist has led us to share the experience of the many Christian communities that cannot celebrate Mass every Sunday. In all of this, God's question: "Whom shall I send?" is addressed once more to us and awaits a generous and convincing response: "Here am I, send me!" (Is 6:8). The celebration of World Mission Day is also an occasion for reaffirming how prayer, reflection and the material help of your offerings are so many opportunities to participate actively in the mission of Jesus in his Church.

May the Most Blessed Virgin Mary, Star of Evangelization and Comforter of the Afflicted, missionary disciple of her Son Jesus, continue to intercede for us and sustain us. Franciscus

READINGS FOR 29TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Mission Sunday

First Reading: In 538 BC the pagan king Cyrus decreed the repatriation of the exiled Jews. He even gave them money to rebuild the Temple. In doing so he won their undying gratitude. But Isaiah sees beyond King Cyrus's magnanimity to the unfolding of Yahweh's plan of salvation. "Though you do not know me, I arm you that men may know from the rising to the setting of the sun that, apart from me, all is nothing." At the back of it all no one thwarts God's plan.

2nd Reading: This is the earliest writing of the New Testament and shows how from the beginning Christians lived in the presence of the Blessed Trinity. We are consecrated to truth, hope and charity in Christ, who himself is consecrated to God the Father, by the power of the Holy Spirit.

Gospel: Jesus here prays to his Father that his followers will display the essential character of the true Church: exhibiting beauty and goodness, unity and harmony, born of and sustained by the truthfulness of God Himself, to which Jesus was completely consecrated.
